The Leprechaun

Something odd happened to a little girl named Liz. She went to the park to play on the slide, but she saw a little leprechaun all dressed in green instead. Liz was very surprised because she had always been told that leprechauns appear mostly at night. Leprechauns like to hide in bushes at night so that nobody sees them. When Liz saw the leprechaun at the park, she tried to get it so that she could show him to her friends. She tried to get him, but he was too fast. He got away. Oh, well.

1. Who saw a leprechaun at the park?

2. What color do leprechauns wear?

3. When do leprechauns appear most?

4. Where do leprechauns hide at night?

5. Why did Liz want to catch the leprechaun?
The Attack of the Bees

Bees love to eat honey and fly around the sky during the day. However, bees also have stingers. If you ever get stuck by a bee’s stinger, you need to seek help right away because some people are allergic to bee stings. Bees are fun to look at, but you should always be careful around bees.

1. Who should get help if they get stung by a bee?

2. What do bees love to eat?

3. When do bees like to fly?

4. Where do bees like to fly?

5. Why should people seek help if they get stung by a bee?
On a Hike

On Sunday, my family went on a hike at Slippery Canyon. I wanted to bring our dog, Spike. Mom told me that Spike would have to stay on a leash if I brought him. There are bears at Slippery Canyon so dogs must be on a leash. Spike went with us. Spike barked at birds and butterflies. But, Spike did not see any bears to bark at when we were at Slippery Canyon. It was a fun day.
Dog vs. Mouse

A tiny mouse began drinking water from our dog’s water bowl. All of a sudden, our dog, Bandit, saw the mouse. Bandit ran over to his bowl. The mouse must have heard Bandit because it ran back into the hole in the wall. Bandit tried to dig in the hole, but the mouse didn’t come out. Then Bandit barked at the mouse. I don’t think Bandit is happy.
Wally the Frog

There once was a frog named Wally. Wally lived at Miller Pond. Each day, a little girl named Poppy came to visit Wally. Poppy loved frogs. Wally would hop upon a Lilly pad when Poppy came to visit. He croaked very loudly when he saw her. Poppy liked to watch Wally hop and swim. Wally was a cute frog!
